DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This stone house is located on the southeast corner of Vermont and West Salisbury Streets facing onto Vermont Street. It is a two story, three bay building of roughly coursed limestone dating from the early 19th century. Attached to its south end wall is a two story, two bay frame or log addition covered with asbestos shingle siding. Extending to the rear of the building is a one story three bay log wing which was described separately as WA-WIL-219. The house has three bays on its Church Street or north facade as well as its front. An unusual feature is that the gable appears to be of frame construction, and is sheathed with asbestos shingle siding. Masonry above the windows consists of rough keystones centered above the openings. Two over two pane sashes are held within moderately wide frames. Entrances with transoms are located in the south bay of the front wall and the west bay of the north wall. A brick chimney extends from inside the north wall. The house is in good condition.
